research>>

Philip Lazarovici, Ph.D.

Prof. Lazarovici research is in the field of pharmacology, toxicology and cancer with emphasis on neurosciences. His specific expertise is in neurotrophins such as nerve growth factor and neurotoxins affecting ionic channels and receptors.

Beside basic research, Prof. Lazarovici was involved in the team developing the antiparkinson drug rasagiline (AZILECT), with Teva Pharmaceutical Co. He is a scientific consultant to biotech and pharmaceutical companies such as Alomone Labs, D-Pharm and Teva Israel, Promega, USA, Kyowa Hakko Kogyo, Japan.